

Are we rich enough to waste for long?

Challenges of renewing the Hungarian housing stock

Professional event of the Hungarian Energy Efficiency Institute

The conference is supported by the Embassy of the Kingdom of the Netherlands

February 6, 2017

Venue: MagNet Közösségi Ház, Hamvas terem

(1062 Budapest, Andrásy út 98.)

8.30	Registration, refreshments
9:00 – 9:20	Welcome René van Hell, Ambassador, Kingdom of the Netherlands Gabriella Szalai, director, Hungarian Energy Efficiency Institute
	The Hungarian housing stock from an energy point of view – situation analysis
9:20 – 9:50	What is the physical state of Hungarian housing stock? Government plans to renew large numbers of buildings, or how to revitalize panel buildings Zsolt Füleky, Deputy State Secretary, Prime Minister's Office
9:50 – 10:10	Do only financial support schemes keep the residential construction market going or can the industry's boom be made sustainable? Dénes Varga, economist, housing policy expert
10:10 – 10:35	How much do the domestic cost optimum and nearly zero energy levels contribute to fulfilling the 2020 climate targets? Krisztina Severnyák, Budapest University of Technology and Economics
10:35 – 10:45	Questions and answers
10:45 – 11:05	Coffee break
	Hungarian successes and lessons
11:05 – 11:25	How receptive is the new home market for energy efficiency and sustainability? Henrietta Budai, Hungarian Green Building Association
11:25 – 11:45	Why is it worth it for a local government, as an investor, to develop passive buildings, whether rented or public? Tamás Szabó, XIII. Kerületi Közzolgáltató Zrt.

11:45 – 12:00	Questions and answers
12:00 – 13:00	Lunch, Networking
	Thoughtful building design, innovative solutions
13:00 – 13:45	Large-scale renovation of buildings: the ' Energiesprong ' project. Energy refurbishment, innovative preparation and financing model of social housing. Jasper van den Munckhof director, Energiesprong
13:45 – 14:05	Energy efficiency from a producer's aspect Vince Bukva, Kingspan Kft.
14:05 – 14:30	Questions and answers
	European financing models for the implementation of residential projects
14:30 – 15:00	What makes an energy efficiency project interesting and supportable from financial point of view Alain Nadeau, Head of European Investment Bank Office, Hungary
15:00 – 15:30	Challenges of financing energy efficiency in the residential sector Sándor Szabó, Director, Sales and Customer Relations Directorate, MFB Hungarian Development Bank
	Questions and answers
16:00	End of conference